

Copyright 1995 by Grolier Electronic Publishing, Inc.

William Tecumseh Sherman (1820-91), a Union general in the U.S. Civil War, is portrayed in a painting by George Peter Alexander Healy (1866). Sherman is famous for his March to the Sea across Georgia in 1864, and his later campaign that led to the surrender of Confederate forces under Joseph E. Johnston. (The Bettmann Archive)